
AICPA

2012 Sidney Kess Award Winner Takes Volunteerism to the Road

Posted by: AccountingWEB Education & Careers, Community News and Tax 5/14/2012.

Article by: Deanna C. White

The American Institute of CPAs honored Martin Shenkman with the 2012 Sidney Kess Award for Excellence in Continuing Education. This prestigious award recognizes individual CPAs who have made outstanding contributions in tax and financial planning, and whose public service truly exemplifies the CPA's professional values and ethics.

“Marty is a pioneer who has volunteered countless hours traveling the country with his wife to educate CPAs about the importance of estate planning for people with Chronic Illness. A practitioner’s practitioner, he has shown the uncanny ability to help others in the profession understand and apply complex topics. He exemplifies everything that I have strived for in my career.”

– Sidney Kess

To read the full article, click the URL below.

<http://www.accountingweb.com/topic/education-careers/aicpa-2012-sidney-kess-award-winner-takes-volunteerism-road>